

We won't sell anyone your private information

But if you have not signed on to the National Do Not Call Registry, you may be giving it away to telemarketers

Did you know the three primary credit reporting agencies are selling your personal credit information?

Franklin Savings Bank does not share, sell, give or exchange your private information with anyone. However, our respect for your privacy is not shared by the primary credit reporting agencies which have acknowledged that they sell the consumer information they receive as part of credit inquiries. These credit checks are made by all financial institutions as a regular part of the lending process.

As soon as 24 hours after the credit check, your information may be in the hands of a telemarketer who may claim that Franklin Savings Bank has referred you to them for a mortgage loan. THIS IS NOT TRUE.

Financial Institutions do not have the ability to block your name from these lists. You have the right to "opt-out" of the sale of your information and these pre-screening practices of the credit reporting companies. Your rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) include an option to "opt out" for five years or permanently. For more information, visit the Federal Trade Commission website at www.fcc.gov/cgb/consumerfacts/tcpa.html.
